EXHIBITS
IN THE
MODEL STREET

INTRODUCTION.

The Model Street in the Louisiana Purchase Exposition represents the Municipal Improvement Section of the Department of Social Economy. On the southeastern side of the grounds, near the Lindell Boulevard entrance a street was surveyed and building lots staked out by the Department of Works. Here the Department of Exhibits provided examples of different styles of paving, and models of municipal buildings to contain the municipal improvement exhibits of separate cities and foreign countries.

The name "Model Street" had its origin in the intention of the exposition that this section should represent a model for the principal street and public square of a city or town of about twenty thousand inhabitants. The buildings were erected under the general supervision of Albert Kelsey, architect, so that the architectural style might be harmonious and in keeping with the purpose for which each building was erected. A model Town Hall, to contain foreign and domestic exhibits of municipal improvements and machinery therefor, was projected on the public square by the Exposition as its contribution to this section of the Fair. The cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul united in erecting a model municipal museum; Kansas City built a casino; New York City reproduced a model of its city hall, and San Francisco a model of the Ferry Station of that city.

Opposite the Town Hall, on the public square, stands the Guild Hall, a private enterprise. Opposite the Guild Hall is enclosed a model kindergarten and playground for children. Each of these buildings has been especially designed to represent some typical structure that would be suitable for the public square and principal street of the average small American city. The paving of the street represents the exhibits of several paving companies. A section of the road between the brick and asphalt pavement was laid by the Department of Works of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and shows the style of macadam road found throughout the Fair Grounds. The upper end of the street shows an exhibit of road making installed by the New Jersey Road Department.

PREFACE

A modern Universal Exposition well might be called an encyclopedia of society, as it contains, in highly specialized array, society's words and works. It is a collection of the wisdom and achievements of the world, brought together for the inspection of the world—for examination and study by its experts. It constitutes a compact, classified, indexed compendium, available for ready reference, of the achievements and ideas of society, in all phases of its activities, extending to the most material as well as to the most refined.

The Catalogue of such a Universal Exposition is, therefore, perhaps the most comprehensive and representative contemporary record of the progress and condition of the human race that may be devised. It is a succinct and authentic record of the exhibits of the Exposition, which are the evidences of the capacity and performance in all lines, intellectual, social and industrial, of all the peoples of the world. The value of such a document and its significance, socially and commercially, are incalculable. It is an epitome of the capacity and promises of mankind, while being at the same time a roll of honor—a certified register of those individuals and institutions which are taking active part in the life of the world to-day.

INTRODUCTION

By CHARLES F. MILLS,
Chief of Department.

THE UNIVERSAL EXPOSITION OF 1904 will provide accommodations and opportunity at St. Louis for complete displays of the useful recognized breeds of domestic animals and fowls and their exhibition and judging to the best advantage, without charge for entries, stalls or pens in any division.

The wide extent of the classification, a list of prizes never before equalled in extent or generosity, together with the ample and attractive provisions intended for the comfort and exhibition of the entries, will, as a whole, be fully in keeping with the magnitude and importance of the industry to which they pertain. All these have been planned upon a scale and breadth of liberality heretofore unknown, and suggest every facility for the instruction and entertainment of visitors interested in Animal Husbandry and its wonderful recent progress, as well as all who would know more of their reach and what they imply.

The appropriation of $280,000 of Exposition money for prizes to live stock, to which have been added large sums from States and associations of breeders, a total of nearly half a million dollars, makes possible, and assures in each class, a presentation of and a competition between the best specimens in existence—an assemblage of quality whereby will be determined the present summit level of human skill and endeavor in animal development.

That the effort must give wholesome impetus to an advancement and resetting of breeding, feeding and exposition standards far surpassing any heretofore attained, is the earnest conviction of those who have wrought its plans and provided the ways and means for its making.
